

Speaking dog language!

When dogs are sad or unhappy, they can't tell us using their voice, they have to tell us how they are feeling using their body.

Are you a dog body language expert? Find out by writing below how each dog is feeling by looking at their body.

Dogs can tell you a lot with their body language. Can you put a tick next to the pictures that show it's safe for you to say hello and a cross next to the pictures that aren't safe for you to go and say hello.

Can you draw on the back of this sheet the four dogs below and find a friend to challenge to work out if they are safe to stroke or not?

A dog hiding behind the sofa, a dog sitting nicely, a dog asleep in their bed and a dog tied up outside a school.
